International Podiatry Conference Registration

APRIL 12 - 13, 2019
LEXINGTON, KENTUCKY

We are excited to be hosting the Inaugural Rood & Riddle International Podiatry Conference on April 12 - 13, 2019. We wanted to create a conference that incorporated both veterinarians and farriers in a collaborative environment that will inspire all who attend.

Keeneland will be racing during your stay and is in close proximity to the hospital. There are also a number of bourbon tours available at nearby distilleries as well as horse farms tours available. If you have guests or are able to extend your stay, take advantage of these opportunities. This meeting is made possible through sponsorship and our gratitude extends to all supporting groups.

We hope to see you in Lexington.

Sincerely,

Raul Bras, DVM, CJF, APF
Scott Morrison, DVM

Intent of the Podiatry Conference

The International Podiatry Conference aims to bring together experienced equine veterinarians and farriers for skill development and discussion.

The ability to meet and discuss techniques will hopefully advance the skill set of all attending as well as raise new questions, formulate new areas of research and facilitate collaboration between veterinarians and farriers.

PODIATRY CONFERENCE COMMITTEE:

Speakers

Maarten Oosterlinck

DVM, PhD, DipECVSMR(Equine), DipECVS

Ghent University | UGhent · Department of Surgery and Anaesthesiology of Domestic Animals

Maarten Oosterlinck graduated from Ghent University in 2004 and has gained extensive experience in equine orthopedics and surgery at the busy department of surgery and anesthesiology of the faculty of veterinary medicine of Ghent University. Combining clinical work with research, Maarten earned his PhD on the use of pressure plate analysis for the objective evaluation of equine locomotion in 2011. He went on to perform a surgical residency and in 2014, he passed the qualifying exam of the European College of Veterinary Surgeons. In 2018, he became diplomate and board member (vice-president) of the European College of Veterinary Sports Medicine and Rehabilitation.

Maarten has (co-)authored more than 50 publications on a variety of equine orthopedic and surgical topics in peer-reviewed journals, and he lectures regularly at international courses and conferences. He is a scientific editor for The Veterinary Journal and a member of the editorial board of Equine Veterinary Education. In his current position as a postdoctoral staff member, Maarten's daily clinical work is focused on equine orthopedics, gait analysis, podiatry and surgery, while enjoying clinically orientated research, and lecturing and consulting about various topics in his field of expertise.

Haydn Price

Dip. WCF

Haydn has been a practicing farrier for some 30 years and during that time has developed a special interest in performance and lameness shoeing techniques. During that continued period has been instrumental in the practical application and understanding of Farriery specific biomechanics, and the utilisation of equine gait analysis systems for both benchmarking and quantitative data collection Co author of 'shoeing for performance' and a regular international lecturer and contributor to equestrian related symposiums in Farriery, primarily in North America, South America

Australia, Mexico and Europe.

Consultant Farrier to the British Equestrian Federation (BEF) and World Class Equestrian Programme (WCP) for the past 19 years.

Responsibilities include the development and subsequent implementation of a proactive assessment procedure within the Farriery sector looking specifically at the continued development of performance combinations.

Consultant farrier to the HKJC performance programme looking at all discipline equine athletes, whilst also developing strategic procedures for the implementation of horse profiling as a continued management process.

Awarded the BEF Medal of Honour in 2011 for his continued contribution to Farriery within the BEF and the WCP.

In 2013 Haydn was inducted into the International Farriery Hall of Fame for his continued services, commitment and education to the International Farriery Profession.

When not working he is often found flying around the Welsh sky with his 4 year old grandson who equally enjoys his passion for flying.

R.F. (Ric) Redden

DVM

International Equine Podiatry Center (IEPC) | Versailles, Ky.

R.F. (Ric) Redden, D.V.M., is a lifelong horseman, farrier and veterinarian. His shoeing career began in the early 60s and it has made a profound impact on his medical career.

Dr. Redden graduated from the Ohio State University College of Veterinary Medicine in 1974 with distinguished honors in Equine Medicine and Surgery. His career consists of 9 years international race track practice and an exclusive equine podiatry practice since 1983.

Dr. Redden and his wife Nancy organized and hosted 20 Bluegrass Laminitis Symposiums in Louisville, Ky. He has organized podiatry seminars in 22 other countries throughout the world, and continues to share his knowledge and experience through in-depth equine podiatry courses, lectures, and workshops.

Dr. Redden has developed a number of specialty foot products and treatment concepts for NANRIC designed to enhance the healing environment for several career and life-threatening syndromes.

Scott Morrison

DVM

Rood & Riddle Equine Hospital

Dr. Scott Morrison is a 1999 graduate of the Virginia Maryland Regional College of Veterinary Medicine. He is also a graduate of the Eastern School of Farriery and built a successful farrier business prior to enrollment at Virginia Tech. Following graduation in 1999, Dr. Morrison completed a one year hospital internship at Rood & Riddle Equine Hospital in Lexington, Kentucky. He was hired by Rood & Riddle as an associate veterinarian and began to develop Rood & Riddle's Podiatry department.

Today, Dr. Morrison, who is now a partner at Rood & Riddle, oversees the Rood & Riddle Podiatry Center. His schedule includes travel throughout the United States and Europe to consult and lecture.

Raul Bras

DVM, CJF, APF

Rood & Riddle Equine Hospital

Dr. Raul Bras grew up in Puerto Rico where he showed and bred Paso Fino horses. He finished his undergraduate at Louisiana State University, graduated from Ross University Veterinary School in 2005 and completed his clinical year at Auburn University.
